University of Applied Sciences

HSBA service for potential applicants

Information about places currently on offer can be obtained free of charge in the Market for Places at the HSBA at www.hsba.de. Details can be clarified with our company service.

Furthermore, companies are listed and linked at www.hsba.de which already have students at the HSBA or wish to offer places in the future. On request, the HSBA office can give to prospective students a list of the companies cooperating with the university, including details of the people applicants should contact. Each company can agree with the company service of the HSBA what information should go into these lists.

The HSBA company service uses these lists, for example, to draw the attention of school-leavers specifically to the places offered by the HSBA at career fairs.

The company service is glad to give its support to individuals wishing to take free places.
