

We are looking for a

Research Assistant (m/f)

with the opportunity of doctoral research within the area
Banking, Financial Markets & Risk Management

We are looking for an ambitious person with a keen interest in banking and financial markets. The part-time employment at HSBA (50%) allows you to conduct your doctoral research within the cooperative doctoral programme at HSBA ideally from the 1 January 2019 until 31 December 2022.

Your Prospective Duties

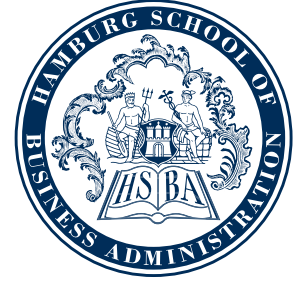

- Flexible substitution for lectures on banking, financial markets and risk management, especially with emphasis on digitalisation (FinTech, Robo-Advisory, Cryptocurrencies, etc.)
- Development of concepts for research and course contents within the department
- Special projects regarding publications or other initiatives within the framework of the department
- Development of exams and exam corrections
- Supervision of Bachelor and Master theses
- Organisation of the annual excursion in a global financial centre

We Offer You

- An exciting and challenging work in a highly topical research field
- Research in a department that is specialised in banking and financial markets
- Intensive support and supervision of your doctoral thesis at HSBA and a cooperating partner university
- Early involvement in the publication of research findings in international scientific journals and at international conferences
- Access to an international research network
- Remuneration is based on the usual remuneration for research assistants at universities

HSBA Hamburg School of Business Administration is the Hamburg University of Applied Sciences with round about 1.000 students and more than 250 cooperation companies from Hamburg and the metropolitan region. As part of the university project „Innovation through digitalisation and international accreditation“, HSBA offers a cooperative doctoral programme subject to the releasing of the funds.

We are looking for a

Research Assistant (m/f)

with the opportunity of doctoral research within the area
Banking, Financial Markets & Risk Management

Here you can find more information about the doctoral programme, including an application guide with useful information about required documents and research proposal. For further questions please contact Franziska Buttler (Tel. 040 36138-748, franziska.buttler@hsba.de). Your contact person for professional questions about the area of research is Prof. Dr. Peter Scholz (peter.scholz@hsba.de).

Please send us your complete application documents including curriculum vitae, short research proposal (2-3 pages) and, if applicable, an sample of your academic work (publication or thesis) by 30th November 2018 per E-Mail (in one single PDF!) to franziska.buttler@hsba.de.

HSBA Hamburg School of Business Administration is the Hamburg University of Applied Sciences with round about 1.000 students and more than 250 cooperation companies from Hamburg and the metropolitan region. As part of the university project „Innovation through digitalisation and international accreditation“, HSBA offers a cooperative doctoral programme subject to the releasing of the funds.

