

Summer School on Maritime & Logistics

1–9 July 2019 | In Hamburg | Incl. Company Visits

Overview

Highlights

- Participants from all over the world
- Renowned lecturers from practice
- Company visits
- Social programme
- Hamburg as a port city is the ideal location

Programme

The HSBA Summer School on Maritime and Logistics provides basic insights into Ship Management, Maritime Law and Logistics. The courses will feature practical insights through company visits with a focus on Digital Transformation and possible Innovative Disruptions. Participants will discuss recent developments in these business areas by taking regional, national and international specificities into account.

Students

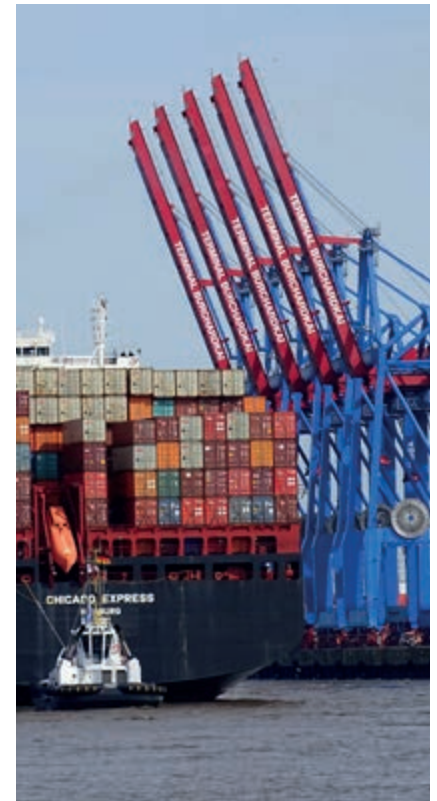

If you study business administration, economics or related disciplines such as logistics, nautics, law or shipping, you are welcome to attend our Summer School. You will enlarge your knowledge of the maritime industry and logistics and will get to know Hamburg as an important logistical hub in Germany.

Organisation

During the programme, you will take part in 68 hours of lectures including case studies and guest lectures. The Summer School furthermore includes case assignments, visits to partner companies of HSBA, a cultural programme and the possibility to connect with other HSBA students who will also be on campus. All courses as well as the extracurricular activities take place in English.

Workload

90 hours, which is equivalent to 3 ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System). After successfully preparing and completing a final presentation on a business case, you will receive a certificate, specifying your workload and your newly-gained qualifications.

Advantages

Why should I participate?

- HSBA boasts a Maritime Business School with faculty members specialised in maritime and logistics topics.
- With our MBA Shipping, BSc Maritime Management and BSc Logistics Management, we have the necessary academic expertise available to ensure that you obtain an adequate training in the field.
- Our lecturers have both an academic background in the maritime field and are professionally active. This means that they integrate a great deal of practical cases and examples into course material.

- As an internationally oriented port city and the home of many international companies, Hamburg is a great place to take part in a Summer School on Maritime and Logistics.
- If you are interested in maritime and logistics topics, the knowledge acquired in this programme may perhaps give you the decisive advantage in the next company-internal project or application process.
- It is a great opportunity to determine whether the maritime world is to become your professional future.
- If you want to have an intensive learning and work experience and want to meet new people from all over the world.

Company Visits

"The HSBA Summer School gives a unique chance to discuss current issues and future trends in the maritime industry with professionals from around the world."

Prof. Dr. Orestis Schinas

Course Head MBA Shipping and Head of the Maritime Business School, HSBA
